

MARIETTA PHILPOT
...at Judson College

Marietta Philpot, sophomore at Judson College, is pictured astride "Treasure Trinity". She is among students planning to stable horses at Judson for pleasure riding next year. The girls take early morning rides before classes and late afternoon canters around the hillsides of Marion, Ala. Riding is not taught at the college, but the purpose of maintaining horses belonging to students, is open to all. Bridle paths in the eastern end of campus and unpaved roads around the Black Belt country are used as riding trails.